It has come to our attention that numerous members and nonmembers have been eating dinner at the meetings without paying for them for the last couple of months. This practice has increased to the point that five to ten people a month are not paying for their dinners and unfortunately the association picks up the bill regardless. Due to this practice, we are going to try a new system of dinner registration. This system consists of everybody getting a name tag that they have to wear once they pay for their dinner. Those that did not pay for their dinner will not be wearing name tags.

It is unfortunate that it has to come down to this kind of enforcement to get members and nonmembers alike to pay for their dinners. However, we feel that the payment for the nonpaid dinners by the association is also unfortunate. Money spent on the unpaid dinners subtracts from the money that should be available for the association activities such as guide books and special events. We would appreciate any feedback anybody has on this issue at the next meeting.
